

West Virginians Pilot Women to Rules Committee of House for a Hearing.

She then, a Democrat and a Republican, joined forces in favor of a cause. It shows that that cause must have some merit," said Mrs. Jessie Hardy Stubbs at suffragist headquarters. "I am simply being passing the buck," she continued, "and are trying to side-step the suffrage question in this manner." Henry of the Rules Committee is the man to see to get action, while Mr. Henry offers the explanation that he has just a "small" one. "I am sending a Speaker, Mr. Clark, who, in turn, refers us to someone else."

Mrs. Stubbs today went to Wilmington, N. C., where she will speak to-night at a Progressive banquet on "The Work for Native-born Suffrage." She is the only one to give the Democrats a few little whacks," she said before the train left for Wilmington. "The suffrage issue is up to them," she added, "and they will be held responsible at the polls next fall for their refusal to take a vote on the question, just the same as though they had taken the vote and turned us down."

Miss Doris Stevens, executive secretary of the Congressional Union, will leave Washington tomorrow for Columbus, where she will conduct a week's speaking tour.

After Four Years' Delay Paper Maker Is Freed of Bribery Charges.

Set for trial five times, and as often postponed by tragic happenings, one of the greatest "hoodoo" cases ever tried in the District's courts has at last been disposed of. The now famous case of United States vs. George J. Thompson, president of the Champion Coated Paper Company, of Hamilton, Ohio, was charged with bribery, after a trial lasting nearly four weeks, having been decided. And after four years' delay with all its delays and weeks of testimony and argument, it took just 15 minutes for a jury to adjudge that the defendant was guilty of the crime against him. This vindication had been persistently forecast by Mr. Thompson's stoutest supporters.

It was in May, 1910, that news of a secret indictment against the wealthy paper manufacturer created a sensation in the city. The case was said to be made and sold in the United States and the defendant is known. Major W. P.

Members of the National Typis Club will get their Mexican war dope first-hand tonight when Washington war correspondents, returned from the "front," will relate their experiences at Vera Cruz and in the interior of Mexico. Those who will speak will be: A. J. Sutton, who was forced to view several Mexican prisons from the inside; Joseph P. Annin, Wingrove Rathon, A. M. Jamieson and Charles M. Maigne. The following performers at Washington Theater will also be: Walter Wheatley, in the program; Walter Wheatley, of the Aborn Open Company, at the National, and Henry E. Dixey and Ernest Hill, in popular comedy at the Strand. London and Yosco, on this week's Keith's bill.

The Cosmos Theater will also contain a couple of acts. The winter triumph will begin at 9:30 o'clock.

Secretary of Commerce Backs Up Wilson's Statement That Depression Is Psychological.

up President Wilson's statement that "the country is not in a state of 'psychological' not physical. Secretary of Commerce Redfield told the country as a whole is in full food prosperity."

There are pessimistic speeches everywhere in pocket, was one of the epigrams in Redfield's address. "Things are not as tight," he said.

When New York registers more automobiles than ever before, and when that great industry is pushed to the limit.

From far-off California and from Florida; from the fields of Oklahoma and the orchards of Texas, comes the glad cry of a harvest all but ripe for the sickle. There was a time when the fields of California when I saw them in March, and Florida uttered no cry of distress in the two hundred tons of hay from the market.

"It is a small and pitiful thing that men will do for a moment's wilful profit out of magnifying evils. However, the too-willing howl of the apostle of pessimism is not so serious, as to be, on the whole, more humorous than harmful. There is no need to be alarmed. There is no need to bring no anxiety to the thoughtful."

COLONIAL BEACH
The Atlantic City of Washington

Since the opening of the season at Colonial Beach on Memorial Day, the number of visitors has increased steadily. The boardwalk is thronged morning, noon and night, and the various amusements of the beach receive their full amount of patronage.

Bathing and fishing are the main attractions to the masculine visitors, yet the venues are given over to gayety and amusements, which all seem to enjoy.

Several cottagers arrived at the beach a few days ago to prepare for their summer sojourn. These include the permanent residents of the cottage owned by them for the season's opening. Among these were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Sorretto and Kathleen, and son, Harry. They entertained at their cottage Huldale, the well-known singer, and his daughter, Muriel; Miss Margaret Sullivan, J. Dant Farr, Earl Halsett, Wade Emery, of Washington, and the late Sheldon Fleishoh, of New Haven, Conn.
